

Williams College Department of Music

Chenyang Sun '23, cello Bob Logan, piano

Friedrich Gulda
(1930 – 2000)

Concerto for Violoncello and Wind Orchestra

- I. Ouverture
- II. Idylle
- III. Cadenza
- IV. Menuett
- V. Finale alla marcia

Max Bruch
(1838 – 1920)

Kol Nidre

Frédéric Chopin
(1810 – 1849)

Cello Sonata in G Minor, op. 65

III. Largo

Saturday, May 13, 2023
2:00 p.m.

Brooks-Rogers Recital Hall
Williamstown, Massachusetts

Please turn off cell phones.
No photography or recording is permitted.

Chenyang Sun '23 is a mathematics major. He has had the privilege of studying cello with Julian Müller, Nathaniel Parke, and David Cole, and plays cello in various musical groups including Cello Shots and the Middle Eastern Music Ensemble. He also enjoys composing and arranging music, playing chess and solving Rubik's cubes, and serves as the co-President of Phi Beta Kappa, Williams chapter.

Before coming to Williams, he served as principal cellist in various musical groups, including the Palm Beach Youth Philharmonic Orchestra in Florida. He has studied cello for 18 years, earned a Level 10 Certificate from the Beijing Central Conservatory of Music at age 10, and placed first in numerous competitions in China at national, provincial, and regional levels.