Simone Dinnerstein exploded onto the classical scene with her first album releases, and she has quickly established herself as an artist with an international following. Slate magazine rates her as, "a throwback to such high priestesses of music as Wanda Landowska and Myra Hess," and she is praised by Time magazine for her "arresting freshness and subtlety."

Ms. Dinnerstein is a graduate of The Juilliard School where she was a student of Peter Serkin. She was a winner of the Astral Artist National Auditions, and has twice received the Classical Recording Foundation Award. She also studied with Solomon Mikowsky at the Manhattan School of Music and in London with Maria Curcio. Simone Dinnerstein lives in Brooklyn, New York with her husband and son.
